

2008 What a Year!

Ray Frey took over from outgoing Chair Sarah Lloyd

The Executive Committee approves the 2008 plan, including goals, schedule and budget.

In January, health care in Wisconsin was discussed by State Senators Mark Miller in Lodi (left) and Jon Erpenbach in Portage (right).

Progressive political guru Ed Garvey speaks to a good turnout at the Columbia Dems Jefferson-Jackson dinner in March.

In an attempt to involve Democrats from around the county, we met in Lodi, Portage, Poynette and Pardeeville (shown).

In May, Jack Norman of the Institute for Wisconsin's Future explains why you pay high taxes and many corporations don't.

The 2008 Campaign

In April we caucused to begin the selection process for National Convention delegates

In August we opened our county campaign office in downtown Portage.

In September we opened a second campaign headquarters in Lodi.

Assembly candidate Trish O'Neil speaks at Lodi HQ.

In November, volunteers prepare for a literature drop at Portage HQ.

Victorious Fred Clark thanks a supporter on election night.